

Bilingualism and Aphasia: Two Distinct Platforms that Provide Converging Evidence on the Relationship Between Language Production and Comprehension

Dr. Roxana Botezatu

Tuesday, April 11, at 12p-1p

Student Center Room 2206A

In this talk, Dr. Botezatu employs bilingualism and aphasia as tools to evaluate whether resolving lexical competition during spoken word comprehension engages the same mechanisms as selecting an individual word from a set of candidates for production.
