Cambio de Colores
Latinos in Missouri: Gateway to a New Community Proceedings of the 2004 annual conference

Including selected papers from 2003

Edited by
Stephen Jeanetta and Corinne Valdivia
Cambio Center
University of Missouri-Columbia

With the assistance of W. Pate McMichael

Published by University of Missouri Extension in cooperation with the Cambio Center
University of Missouri-Columbia
2007
About the editors

Stephen C. Jeanetta, State Extension Specialist for Community Development Process, University of Missouri-Columbia

Stephen Jeanetta's skills include fostering the development of community organizations, creating community plans, addressing land-use issues and analyzing community infrastructure. Since 1992, Jeanetta has committed much time and energy to the development of neighborhood organizations and small nonprofit corporations. Jeanetta's community development experience includes work in both rural and urban areas in Missouri and the Amazon region of Brazil, where he was a fellow in the International Leadership Development Program, sponsored by the Partners of the Americas and the Kellogg Foundation. Jeanetta is a certified planner with the American Institute of Certified Planners, a member of the American Planning Association, and executive director of the Missouri/Para Chapter of the Partners of the Americas. He is a founding fellow of MU's Cambio Center. He holds a Ph.D. degree in adult education from the University of Missouri-St. Louis and an M.A. degree in community and regional planning and a B.S. in international affairs from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Corinne Valdivia, Research Associate Professor of Agricultural Economics, Division of Applied Social Sciences, University of Missouri-Columbia

Prof. Valdivia specializes in economic and rural development, focusing mainly on research, graduate advising and outreach, and also lectures on international development. She leads research on sustainable livelihood strategies in rural communities. Valdivia is a founding fellow of MU's Cambio Center and member of its executive board. She is also a founding member of the Missouri Cambio de Colores annual conference and serves in its executive committee. Her research with Latino families focuses on livelihood strategies, processes of economic integration, economic impacts, and effects of community climate and gender on asset accumulation and well-being. She directs a three-year research project on asset-building strategies of newcomers in three new settlement communities in Missouri. She also collaborates with faculty in Mexico focused on sending and receiving communities. Internationally, most of her research and outreach work takes place in the Andes of Peru and Bolivia, and in East Africa, especially Kenya and Uganda. Her focus is decision making, risk management, and identifying pathways for technological uptake and market integration that lead to sustainable livelihoods. She is associate director of International Agriculture Programs in the College of Agriculture Food and Natural Resources at MU, director of the Interdisciplinary Minor in International Development of the Graduate School at MU, and a member of the Technical Committee of the Sustainable Agriculture and Natural Resource Management Collaborative Research Support Program.

About the Cambio Center

The Cambio Center is a multidisciplinary organization established in 2004 to • Provide education and enhance the welfare of all residents of the state of Missouri in the context of the current demographic changes.

• Develop a premier source of knowledge, scholarship, and outreach to respond to the local effects of globalization.

• Provide knowledge and best practices to facilitate the integration of newcomers to Missouri and the Midwest.

• Understand the international nature of the immigration process, the cultures and institutions of Latin America, as a major global partner of Missouri in the exchange of goods and the migration of people.

This publication is available on the World Wide Web at extension.missouri.edu and from Extension Publications, 1-800-292-0969

Copyright 2007 by the Curators of the University of Missouri
CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION .......................................................................................................................... 8

SESSION SUMMARIES AND ABSTRACTS .............................................................................. 10

• Change and Well-being .......................................................................................................... 10
  Hidden Within the Melting Pot: Hispanics in 1970 St. Louis .................................................. 10
    Ann M. Rynearson
  Latinos in St. Louis Today ..................................................................................................... 11
    Daryl J. Hobbs
  New Latino Farmers in the U.S. Heartland: An Example of a Growing Trend in U.S. Agriculture .............................................................................................................. 14
    Juan Marinez and Victor Garcia
  Bridging and Bonding Social Capital in Communities with Latin In-Migrants ....................... 15
    Cornelia Flora and Jan Flora
  Livelihoods, Vulnerabilities, and Opportunities in Rural Missouri ......................................... 15
    Pedro Dozi and Corinne Valdivia
  Listening to Latino Business Owners .................................................................................... 16
    Gwen Richtermeyer
  Financial Services and Assets Building among Latinos in Missouri ....................................... 16
    Margaret S. Sherraden
  University Values—An Obstacle to Embracing Diversity ..................................................... 17
    Noor Azizan-Gardner
  Traditional and Nontraditional Apprenticeship Programs ..................................................... 17
    Don Reese and Kimberly Davis
  Integration of Colombian Refugees in Existing Latino/a St. Louis Communities .................... 17
    P. Ariel Burgess
  Latinos in Cherokee Street: Words, Images, and Text of an Emerging Group in St. Louis ...... 18
    Michael Armijo
  The Experience of the Amigos Program in St. Charles .......................................................... 18
    Lyndel Porterfield, Robert Hoeynck, and Francisco (Paco) Martinez
    (written by Adelante staff)

• Education ................................................................................................................................. 19
  Recruitment and Retention Issues in Higher Education ......................................................... 20
    Lorenzo Covarrubias, Ana Pizarro, Ismael Batancourt, and Hortencia Kayser
  Enrolling Higher Education Faculty in Research and Education for the Latino Immigrant Population .............................................................................................................................. 20
    Laurence Kaptain
  The Community in the ELL Classroom and the ELL Classroom in the Community ................ 21
    Sandra Anderson
Family Education Programs which Provide Parent Outreach Support to Become Active Participants in Children Education ................................................................. 21
Judy R. Shreves

• Youth, Families and Communities ................................................................................................................................. 22
Mechanisms of Acculturation for Hispanic Immigrants: Family-Planning Exchanges, Attachments, and Bridges ................................................................. 22
Anne Dannerbeck, Marjorie Sable, and Jim Campbell
Disaster Preparedness Outreach for Hispanic Populations in Missouri ................................................. 23
Sherry F. Nelson
Central Campesino—Housing Migrant Workers ......................................................................................... 24
Ann Ziebarth

• Health ........................................................................................................................................................................... 24
Cultural Factors Affecting Reproductive Health Care Decisions of Hispanic Latina Women ..... 24
Ruthann M. Gagnon
Teaching Hispanic Couples the Creighton Model Fertility Care System to Achieve or Avoid Pregnancy Naturally: Experience for St. Louis and St. Charles Counties .................................................. 25
Patricia A Rapplean
Perceptions of Health Care Quality: Does Culture Matter? ................................................................. 26
Christina Vasquez Case, Rex Campbell, Santosh Krishna, and E. Andrew Balas
Substance Abuse Treatment Admissions for Midwestern Hispanics: The 1992-2001 Treatment Episode Data Set ...................................................................................... 27
James Topolski
Use of Preventive Health Care for Latinos in Southwest Missouri ......................................................... 27
Suzanne Walker and Susan Dollar
Health Educational Interventions: Do They Work? ..................................................................................... 27
Santosh Krishna, Christina Vasquez Case, and E. Andrew Balas
Medical Training, Changing Demographics, and Latino Health Care: The Case of St. Louis University School of Medicine .............................................................................. 27
Deborah Ayuste
Partnership to Improve Quality Care for Hispanic Seniors ........................................................................... 27
Maria E. Carpenas and Glenda Meachum-Cain
The CLAS Challenge: Implementing the CLAS Guidelines National Standards for Culturally and Linguistically Appropriate Services in Health Care .............................................. 30
Kym Hemley
Working with an Interpreter ................................................................................................................................. 30
Nicole Lopresti and Vicky Padilla

• Civil Rights ...................................................................................................................................................................... 31
Understanding Consumer Rights: Recognizing and Preventing Consumer Fraud in Our Communities ................................................................................................................ 31
Laura Krasser
SELECTED PAPERS 2003 AND 2004 .................................................................................................................. 33

- Papers 2004 .............................................................................................................................................. 33
  New Latino Farmers in the Midwest: The Case of Southern Michigan ................................................. 33
  Juan Martinez and Victor Garcia

  Livelihoods, Vulnerabilities, and Opportunities in Rural Missouri ...................................................... 37
  Pedro Dozi and Corinne Valdivia

  Listening to Latino Business Owners .................................................................................................. 51
  Gwen Richtermeyer

  The Effects of Increasing Hispanic Presence on Cultural and Educational Interaction in Monett, Mo. ........................................................................................................................................ 54
  Jamaine Abidogun

- Papers 2003 .............................................................................................................................................. 57
  Police-Latino Community Relations: Addressing Challenges in Rural Communities ...................... 57
  Leigh Culver

  Missouri’s Efforts to Confront Racial Profiling .................................................................................. 64
  James Klahr

  Impact of the U.S. Immigration Law on the Latino Workforce ............................................................ 69
  Mira Mdivani

  Counterterrorism and the Latino Community Since September 11 ................................................. 77
  Michele Waslin

  Ensuring the Health of Women and Children in the 21st Century .................................................. 84
  Kay Libbus

  Demographic and Census Trends of Latinos in the Kansas City Area ............................................ 88
  Steven L. Drieve

COMMUNITIES OF PRACTICE (2004 CONFERENCE) ................................................................................. 95

MAPS ......................................................................................................................................................... 102
  Map 1. Percent change in Latino population by county, 2002 to 2003 ................................................. 103
  Map 2. Percent change in Latinos working in meat processing by county, 2000 to 2003 ..................... 104
  Map 3. Total number of Hispanic LEP students by county, 2003 ....................................................... 104
  Table 1. Disparity indexes in selected Missouri counties ................................................................. 105

CONFERENCE PARTICIPANTS - 2003 AND 2004 .................................................................................. 106

APPENDIX I –CAMBIO DE COLORES (CHANGE OF COLORS) 2003 – KANSAS CITY ..................... 113

APPENDIX II –CAMBIO DE COLORES (CHANGE OF COLORS) 2004 – ST. LOUIS ..................... 123