

Latinas in the U.S.

By Rebecca Martinez, Ph.D.
Tu/Th 11:00AM – 12:15PM

Course number:
WGST2003/21492

Behavioral Science
Gen-ed credit!

Contact Jessica Jennrich (jennrichj@missouri.edu) for more information.

Enroll Today!

Chicana and Latina Identities in the U.S.

Discover how Chicana/Latina identities have developed in the United States.

Understand the experiences of Chicanas
and other women of color as race, class, gender and sexuality intersect in their lives.

Consider issues such as immigration,
transnational identity, popular culture,
literary expression, body image,
spirituality, assimilation, acculturation,
and activism.

Strengthen skills as a critical thinker and engaging writer.

